JHA Money CenterSM: Business-to-Vendor Payments

How Much Time and Money is Lost Paying Vendors?

Your business customers spend as much as 30% of employee time on work surrounding invoice payment. In the digital age, there's no reason to keep throwing this money away. A recent Goldman Sachs report says, "... we estimate that SMBs [small businesses] pay an average of $16-$22 to manually process an invoice, but that this can be reduced to $6-$7."

Streamlined Vendor Payment

JHA Money Center is a business-to-vendor (B2V) or business-to-business (B2B) payments solution that integrates with and simplifies accounting and accounts payable solutions. You'll get secure vendor and supplier payments processed as ACH gateway transactions and scalable payment capabilities for evolving business requirements.

You can enjoy same-day ACH transactions, as well as next-day settlement for qualified customers. JHA Money Center also provides the assistance and expertise to integrate our payment application programming interface (API) with your system.
